Print Manager Plus®
Release Station 2008

This complete web based Release Station allows Administrators and Users to fully release print jobs with an Active Directory login, Pay for Printing through PayPal, or just release jobs at the printer for full HIPAA compliancy.

This Print Manager Plus Option is fully web based requiring no additional hardware, i.e. Coin Boxes, Card Swipes, Proximity Badges, or other identification requirements, other than his already existing Windows Security login through Active Directory.

Release Station

Built as an Add-on Option to Print Manager Plus, this product redefines print security and simplicity in the same sentence. Using already existing network resources, with robust and secure login features. The Release Station Option allows for easy installation into an already existing Windows Active Directory infrastructure.

Using IIS to run from, the Release Station working with Print Manager Plus will allow many different scenarios for Schools, Libraries, Healthcare, Insurance, and Corporate customers. Integrated with all of your print queues the Release Station can be placed anywhere there is a web based or intranet connection. Users will be prompted for their Username and Password. Once logged in they can view there print job, and choose to Print it or Delete it, or even pay for it! Allowing Administrators to display sets of data for when users login to the Release Station, allows full control over printing in public labs, pay for print kiosks, and HIPAA regulation compliancy for confidential document release.

PayPal features have fully been integrated into the Release Station allowing for full pay for print kiosks or an attendant to charge for printing in any environment. With over 10 years of experience in the Print Management arena and by surveying and listening to our customers it has made Print Manager Plus the #1 Print Management software in the world, which is used in thousands of Schools, Universities, Libraries, Corporations, Governments, and Individual consultants.

Control Printing

The Release Station is specifically setup to release print jobs being help in a paused state in the Windows print queue.

→ Holds Jobs for Review and Release: Administrators or Users can view jobs held in the print queue by Print Manager Plus, and release or delete them.
→ Print Job information given for the job to be released is: User Name, Workstation, Document Name, Printer Name, Pages, Time Submitted, Job Cost, Page Size, Color, Duplex .
→ Allows end user print jobs to be held, until that user logs in with their Active Directory Account to review and release their own print jobs when ready or at the print station.
→ Allows users to pay for print jobs, or add balance with a Credit Card via PayPal merchant services.

Security and Restrictions

Security is based on the existing Windows infrastructure. Print jobs are paused in the print queue waiting to be released. Other security can be set through Print Manager Plus settings.

→ Deny or Allow printing by users who are not recognized by Active Directory.
→ Enforce Print Job Verification at Release Station.
→ Supports Sarbanes-Oxley compliancy.
→ Supports HIPAA compliancy.
→ Supports Data Protection Acts compliancy.

Messaging

Print Manager Plus uses two different ways to send messages back to end users when a quota, restriction, or security rule has been met. First the product will try to use the Windows Messenger service. If this is unavailable then messaging can be used in conjunction with the Print Manager Plus End User Inquiry Tool.

Print Manager Plus comes with an End User Inquiry Tool application. The End User Inquiry Tool can be installed locally on a workstation running Windows NT, 2000, XP, and Vista or remotely through Active Directory. This program sits in the Windows tray and is started whenever a user logs into Windows. When the user places there mouse pointer over the trey icon it will tell them their current print quota balance and the number of pages they have printed. The product also has a dual purpose which is, it will display any messages coming from the Print Manager Plus Service when a user has met a quota, restriction, or security rule.

Product Interface and Usability

Configuration

The configuration of the Release Station is done through the web interface.

→ Select Active Directory or Work Group.
→ Job Timeout settings.
→ Assign Administrator Username and Passwords.
→ Assign database location.

Release Station

The release station will show the user or Administrator all print jobs owned by that user in multiple print queues. The job can then be paid for via PayPal or whatever means the organization gives them.

The jobs will be held in the queue for a set amount of time and can be automatically deleted if nothing is done with it. Users have the option of Deleting or printing the print job from the release station.
